Fashion Design Course for Fashion Enthusiasts – Swiss Fashion Academy

Something magical comes up when we have the opportunity to put Passion and Career together in one! Make your dreams a reality and sign up for our Fashion Designer course!

Learn from the basics of research and trend studies to the development and final presentation of your own collection. In addition to the guarantee of professional certification (certified) at the end of your Fashion Designer Training, our fashion design school provides you with the possibility of the course being taught in German, English, Portuguese, or Spanish.

Another advantage is that all our classes are distributed in small groups so that we can guarantee you a better and personalized follow-up during the course.

Target Audience of the Fashion Designer Course:

The taste for fashion, trends, design and crafts, a creative and curious spirit, are some of the fundamental characteristics for those who want to attend the Fashion Design Training. Our training is also ideal for those within the fashion world who wish to pursue a career as Image Directors, Coolhunters, Fashion Consultants, or Fashion Communication and Marketing experts in companies in the industry.

Fashion Designer Training– Professional Profile:

The Fashion Designer is dedicated to performing in the fashion industry, communicating an idea/trend through the creation of collections of clothes and/or accessories with the proper know-how and which will influence the way a certain target audience will dress.

Fashion Designers create creative and functional collections

Your designs will not only express your creativity, but also meet the practical needs and desires of your future customers.

The one who chooses to study Fashion Design must have a global vision of the world and its current affairs, in addition to knowledge of sociology and history of clothing. The profession goes beyond parades and glamorous costumes, it also requires knowledge about production, costs, quality control and sales. The psychological profile of those who wish to be part of this area requires a personality with leadership capacity, innovative, creative, researcher, flexible, enterprising, confident and visionary.
